September 9: Once Upon a River

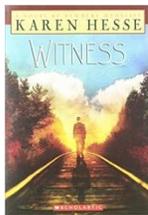

By Diane Setterfield
On a dark midwinter's night in an ancient inn on the river Thames, an extraordinary event takes place. The door bursts open on a wounded stranger. In his arms is the lifeless body of a small child.

February 3: Epitaph: A Novel of the O.K. Corral

By Mary Doria Russell
This is Wyatt Earp's story. Epic and intimate, it gives voice to the real men and women whose lives were changed forever by those fatal thirty seconds in Tombstone.

October 7: Witness

By Karen Hesse
A small Vermont town in 1924 turns against its own when the Ku Klux Klan moves in. No one is safe, especially the two youngest, twelve-year-old Leanora, an African-American girl, and six-year-old Esther, who is Jewish.

March: A Place for Us

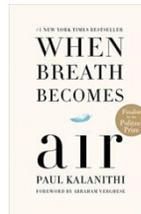

By Fatima Mirza
As an Indian wedding gathers a family back together, parents Rafiq and Layla must recon with the choices their children have made. What secrets and betrayal have caused this close-knit family to come unraveled?

November 4: Love and Other Consolation Prizes

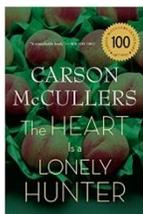

By Jamie Ford
For twelve-year-old Ernest Young, the chance to go the World's Fair feels like a gift. But once he's there, amid the exotic exhibits, fireworks, and Ferris Wheels, he discovers that he is to be raffled off as a prize.

April 6: When Breath Becomes Air

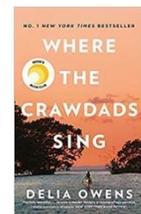

By Paul Kalanithi
At the age of thirty-six, Paul Kalanithi, a young neurosurgeon was diagnosed with stage IV lung cancer. This memoir is about what happens when a young doctor becomes the patient and confronts his own mortality.

December 2: The Heart is a Lonely Hunter

By Carson McCullers
Carson McCullers became a literary sensation at the age of 23 when she spun this haunting, unforgettable story. At the novel's center is the deaf-mute John Singer, who becomes the confidant for a group of misfits, trying to find their place in a Georgia mill town during the 1930s.

May 4: Where the Crawdads Sing

By Delia Owens
In late 1969, when handsome Chase Andrews is found dead in a small town on the Carolina coast, the locals immediately suspect Kya Clark, the so-called Marsh Girl. But Kya is not what they say.
